BACKGROUND

The National Library of Ireland (NLI) is the library of record for Ireland. Established in 1877, the NLI became an autonomous cultural institution on 3rd May 2005 under the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997, with a Board and a Director who operates under the Board's overall governance. The Board, made up of a chairperson and 11 ordinary members, reports to the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media. The Library employs some 110 staff who work to deliver five priorities under our current strategy, to collect, protect, reveal, engage and innovate.

The NLI shares the story of Ireland with the world through our unique collections. We care for more than twelve million items, including books, manuscripts, newspapers, photographs, prints, maps, drawings, ephemera, music and digital media. The Library's sites in Dublin, including the National Photographic Archive in Temple Bar, are open, free of charge, to all those who wish to consult and explore the collections - through reading rooms which are visitor attractions in their own right, rich and varied exhibitions, and an active public programme. Further information is available at www.nli.ie.

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Digital Collections Department is responsible for growing, managing and preserving the national digital collections in the form of web archives, born digital archives and digitised collections, and for developing the NLI's underpinning ICT systems and core technical infrastructure. The structure of the department comprises the following teams: ICT Infrastructure and Operations, Digital Library Systems, Digitisation, the NLI Web Archive, Born Digital Archives, and now Digital Preservation and Repository Services.

Over the past 15 years, the NLI has invested in and developed the core expertise and technical infrastructure to allow for the collection and preservation of digitised material from the physical collections, large volumes of Irish websites and, most recently, born-digital archives.

At present the NLI preserves more than 200TB of digital collections. The nature of digital collecting requires active preservation planning and interventions throughout the lifecycle of digital materials. Digital Preservation refers to the series of managed activities necessary to ensure continued access to digital materials for as long as necessary.

The NLI's current digital library systems combine open-source software, vendor-supplied products, and locally-developed middleware and interfaces. Core systems include a Library Management System (VTLIS Virtua), discovery and access systems (VuFind and Blacklight), and a digital repository system (Fedora Commons/Samvera), although all are currently under review.

THE TEAM

The Digital Preservation and Repository Services team is a newly formed unit within the NLI's Digital Collections Department. It is currently made up of the Digital Repository Services Manager, the NLI's Digital Preservation Analyst (this role), a pending Digital Archivist/Librarian position (AKII), and is expected to grow. The team is responsible for carrying out the day-to-day administrative functions needed to ingest, manage, and provide downstream use of all types of ingested digital cultural heritage collections. The team also provide organisation-wide domain expertise in the areas of digital preservation and OAIS-conformant collection management across a number of systems and services. Although ultimately aimed at ensuring long-term access and re-use of content by the public, the Digital Repository Services team primarily provides services and expertise to other internal NLI teams to enable them to acquire digital collections, interrogate and work with them once ingested, and deliver them to users in a variety of engaging ways.

THE ROLE

The Digital Preservation Analyst plays a critical role in embedding good practice in digital preservation across the NLI. In 2023, the NLI published its Digital Preservation Policy (the first among Irish National Cultural Institutions) setting out core principles to guide the further development of digital preservation competence within the NLI, including a goal of attaining appropriate international certification within 2 years. This role is explicitly named as having "responsibility for maintaining this Policy and leading initiatives to coordinate its implementation, reporting to the NLI's Digital Collecting Steering Group". Some of these initiatives include developing and maintaining policy, guidelines and procedures in relation to digital preservation, contributing to the needs analysis, scoping and requirements for the digital repository system and contributing to risk management in a digital preservation context.

The Digital Preservation Analyst will work closely with colleagues across other NLI teams, including Digital Library Systems, Born Digital Archives, Special collections and Published Collections, Digitisation, Web Archive, Service Delivery, and Education, Learning, and Programming.

The successful candidate will be a flexible and co-operative team player, but equally comfortable working on their own initiative and demonstrating a high level of personal responsibility. They will have excellent analytical and communications skills and the ability to work effectively in project-oriented environment.

We offer flexible hybrid working based from our historical city centre campus. This is an excellent opportunity to work in a stimulating, challenging environment, to apply your expertise, to solve interesting problems, and to implement community adopted technologies and standards to help ensure the preservation and re-use of the NLI's national cultural heritage collections.

Therefore, such retirees may not apply for this position.

Department of Health and Children Circular (7/2010)

The same prohibition on re-employment applies under the VRS, except that the prohibition is for a period of 7 years, after which time any re-employment will require the approval of the Minister for Public Expenditure and Reform. People who availed of either of these schemes are not eligible to compete in this competition.

Collective Agreement: Redundancy Payments to Public Servants

Tenure

The successful candidate will be appointed to a permanent post, subject to successful completion of a 12-month probationary contract.

An appointment is made to a position in the National Library of Ireland on successful completion of a probationary contract. This does not preclude an extension to the probationary period in appropriate circumstances. During the period of probation, the appointee's performance will be subject to review by the relevant manager(s) to determine whether the appointee:

- (i) has performed in a satisfactory manner.
- (ii) has been satisfactory in general conduct.
- (iii) is suitable from the point of view of health with particular regard to sick leave.

Outside Employment

The position will be whole time and the appointee may not engage in private practice or be connected with any outside business, which conflicts in any way with his/her official duties, impairs performance or compromises his/her integrity.

Organisation of Working Time Act 1997

The terms of the Organisation of Working Time Act 1997 will, where appropriate, apply to this position.

Location

The successful candidate will primarily be based at the No.4 Kildare Street, Dublin 2, but will be required to visit and work at all of the NLI premises in Dublin as required by the nature of the role.

Hours of Attendance

Hours of attendance will be as fixed from time to time but will amount, on average, to not less than 41.25 gross hours per week (35 net hours per week). No additional payment will be made for extra attendance (over and above 41.25 hours per week) as the rate of remuneration payable covers any exceptional extra attendance liability that may arise from time to time.

Annual Leave

The annual leave allowance is 29 working days a year, rising to 30 working days after 5 years. This allowance is subject to the usual conditions regarding the granting of annual leave, and is on the basis of a five-day week and is exclusive of the usual public holidays.

Health

A candidate for and any person holding the office must be fully competent and capable of undertaking the duties attached to the office and be in a state of health such as would indicate a reasonable prospect of ability to render regular and efficient service.

Sick Leave

Pay during properly certified sick absence, provided there is no evidence of permanent disability for service, will apply on a pro-rata basis, in accordance with the provisions of the sick leave circulars for the public service.

Officers who will be paying Class A rate of PRSI will be required to sign a mandate authorising the Department of Social Protection to pay any benefits due under the Social Welfare Acts directly to the National Library of Ireland. Payment during illness will be subject to the officer making the necessary claims for social insurance benefit to the Department of Social Protection within the required time limits.

Superannuation and Retirement

The successful candidate will be offered the appropriate superannuation terms and conditions as prevailing in the National Library of Ireland, at the time of being offered an appointment. In general, and except for candidates who have worked in a pensionable (non-single scheme terms) public service job in the 26 weeks prior to appointment (see paragraph d below), this means being offered appointment based on membership of the Single Public Service Pension Scheme ("Single Scheme").

Key provisions attaching to membership of the Single Scheme are as follows:

a. Pensionable Age

The minimum age at which pension is payable is 66 (rising to 67 and 68) in line with State Pension age changes.

b. Retirement Age

Scheme members must retire at the age of 70.

c. Pension Abatement

If the appointee was previously employed in the Civil Service and is in receipt of a pension from the Civil Service normal abatement rules will apply. However, if the appointee was previously employed in the Civil Service and awarded a pension under voluntary early retirement arrangements (other than the Incentivised Scheme of Early Retirement (ISER) or the Department of Health Circular 7/2010 VER/VRS which, as indicated above, renders a person ineligible for the competition) the entitlement to that pension will cease with effect from the date of reappointment. Special arrangements will, however be made for the reckoning of previous service given by the appointee for the purpose of any future superannuation award for which the appointee may be eligible. If the appointee was previously employed in the Civil Service or in the Public Service, please note that the Public Service Pensions (Single Scheme and Other Provisions) Act 2012 includes a provision which extends abatement of pension for all Civil and Public Servants who are re-employed where a Public Service pension is in payment. This provision to apply abatement across the wider public service came into effect on 1 November 2012. This may have pension implications for any person appointed to this position who is currently in receipt of a Civil or Public Service pension or has a preserved Civil or Public Service pension which will come into payment during his/her employment in this position.

- Department of Education and Skills Early Retirement Scheme for Teachers Circular 102/2007

The Department of Education and Skills introduced an Early Retirement Scheme for Teachers. It is a condition of the Early Retirement Scheme that with the exception of the situations set out in paragraphs 10.2 and 10.3 of the relevant circular documentation, and with those exceptions only, if a teacher accepts early retirement under Strands 1, 2 or 3 of this scheme and is subsequently employed in any capacity in any area of the public sector, payment of pension to that person under the scheme will immediately cease. Pension payments will, however, be resumed on the ceasing of such employment or on the persons 60th birthday, whichever is the later, but on resumption, the pension will be based on the persons actual reckonable service as a teacher (i.e. the added years previously granted will not be taken into account in the calculation of the pension payment).

- Ill-Health-Retirement

Please note that where an individual has retired from a Civil/Public Service body on the grounds of ill-health his/her pension from that employment may be subject to review in accordance with the rules of ill-health retirement within the pension scheme of that employment.

d. Prior Public Servants

While the default pension terms, as set out in the preceding paragraphs, consist of Single Scheme membership, this may not apply to certain appointees. Full details of the conditions governing whether or not a public servant is a Single Scheme member are given in the Public Service Pensions (Single Scheme and other Provisions) Act 2012. However, the key exception case (in the context of this competition and generally) is that a successful candidate who has worked in a pensionable (non-single scheme terms) capacity in the public service within 26 weeks of taking up appointment, would in general not become a member of the Single Scheme. In this case such a candidate would instead be offered membership of the pension scheme for non-established civil servants (“Non-Established State Employee Scheme”). This would mean that the abatement provisions at (c) above would apply, and in addition there are implications in respect of pension accrual as outlined below:

e. Pension Accrual

A 40-year limit on total service that can be counted towards pension where a person has been a member of more than one existing public service pension scheme would apply. This 40-year limit, which is provided for in the Public Service Pensions (Single Scheme and other Provisions) Act 2012 came into effect on 28 July 2012. This may have implications for any appointee who has acquired pension rights in a previous public service employment.

f. Pension-Related Deduction

This appointment is subject to the pension-related deduction in accordance with the Financial Emergency Measure in the Public Interest Act 2009.

For further information in relation to the Single Public Service Pension Scheme for Public Servants please see the following website: <https://singlepensionscheme.gov.ie>.

Secrecy, Confidentiality and Standards of Behaviour:

Official Secrecy and Integrity

During the term of the contract an appointee will be subject to the Provisions of the Official Secrets Act, 1963, as amended by the Freedom of Information Acts 1997 and 2003. The appointee will agree not to disclose to third parties any confidential information either during or subsequent to the period of employment.

Civil Service Code of Standards and Behaviour

The appointee will be subject to the Civil Service Code of Standards and Behaviour.

Character

A candidate for and any person holding the office must be of good character.

Selection Methods

- a competitive interview
- presentation or other exercises that may be deemed appropriate

Shortlisting

Normally the number of applications received for a position exceeds that required to fill existing and future vacancies to the position. While a candidate may meet the eligibility requirements of the competition, if the numbers applying for the position are such that it would not be practical to interview everyone, the National Library may decide that a number only will be called to interview. In this respect, the National Library provide for the employment of a shortlisting process to select a group for interview who, based on an examination of the application forms, appear to be most suitable for the position. An expert board will examine the application forms against a pre-determined criteria based on the requirements for the position and decide if you will be shortlisted, relative to the other candidates applying for the position. This is not to suggest that other candidates are necessarily unsuitable or incapable of undertaking the job, rather than there are some candidates, who based on their application, appear to be better qualified and/or have more relevant experience. It is therefore in your own interest to provide a detailed and accurate account of your qualifications/experience on the application form.

Deeming of candidature to be withdrawn

Candidates who do not, when requested, furnish such evidence as the National Library of Ireland requires in regard to any matter relevant to their candidature will have no further claim to consideration.

Review Procedures in relation to the Selection Process

Requests for a review are dealt with in accordance with the "Code of Practice: Appointment to Positions in the Civil Service and Public Service" published by the Commission for Public Service Appointments - the Code can be accessed at www.cpsa.ie .

The National Library of Ireland will consider requests (addressed to the HR Unit) for review as follows: -

- informal process to be availed of within 5 working days of the notification of initial decision (Section 7.8 of Code) or within 2 working days of the receipt of a decision in relation to an interim stage (Section 7.9 of Code).
- Formal process: request for review must be made within 10 working days of the notification of the initial decision or if an interim stage the request for review must be received within 4 working days (Section 7.13 of Code).
- The candidate may seek to have outcome of initial review reviewed by decision arbitrator and a request to this effect should be made within 7 working days of the receipt of the outcome of the initial review (Section 7.15 of Code).

Section 8 of the Code deals with the Review/Appeals Procedures in relation to allegations of a breach of the Code of Practice.

ONE copy will be retained in HR, and HR will destroy the remaining TWO copies on the completion of the competition. Candidates retain the usual access rights to information.

Candidates' Obligations

Candidates should note that canvassing will disqualify and will result in their exclusion from the process.
